

The State vs In Cir Court - Barbour vs vs 3rd Spring Term 1858 - Jacob Parmer's

In open Court Comes W. H. Vinson who makes oath that he was summoned as a witness in the above stated case at the instance of the defendant Jacob Parmer and attended the trial as a witness but was not introduced and examined that affiant never communica-ted to the attorneys who represented the defendant the facts which he would prove until after the trial of said case and not until to day - That he affiant on the day that defendant was called before B. H. Nier a justice of the peace for said County at Claytown and a short time after the pocket book was charged to have been stolen - Saw said James McLean whose pocket book was charged to have been the party from whose person the larceny was charged to have been committed, with a pocket book and one hundred and nine dollars in it, that said McLean afterwards and on the same day said McLean presented said pocket book to affiant and requested him to take care of it. That when so presented it contained one Hundred and two 25/100 dollars and that affiant took and kept said book for about two days. That the book which affiant received as above stated, answered the description given by said McLean of the one stolen in his examination on the trial of said case. Affiant was present and heard said McLean testify - saw him produce the pocket book he exhibited on the trial, and heard him describe the other pocket book that had been stolen and the pocket book so described was in accordance in description the one deposited with affiant as above stated.
